To the Self, existent, intelligence, bliss, impartite, beyond the range of speech and thought, the substrate of all, I resort for the attainment of the desired thing.  Emancipation. NOTES ON INTRODUCTORY STANZA. All philosophy strives after unity. It is its aim, its task, to reduce complexity to simplicity, the many to the one. The Upanishads tell us that this was the aim of Indian philosophers, and they not always Brahmans, in very early times. In the Mundaka, for example, it is related that the illustrious son of Sunaka approached the sage Angiras with due ceremony, and inquired of him what that was which, being known, all things would be known. He was told in reply that the wise regard the invisible, intangible, unrelated, colourless one, who has neither eyes nor ears, neither hands nor feet, eternal, all-pervading, subtile and undecaying, as the source of all things. This is, of course, Brahma, the so-called Absolute of the Vedanta, the Self of the verse before us; and the system then evolved from the inner consciousness of...
