We are in great want of the books immediately; indeed, we shall be compelled to suspend some of our recitations, unless it arrives soon, for the books cannot (many of them) be procured in any of the Western book-stores. The Trustees, as well as the students of this Institution, will ever have occasion for a grateful remembrance of the author of this benefaction. It is not only almost impossible to procure the books we use, here in the West, but such as can be obtained are generally very expensive, making it very embarrassing for young men of limited means to provide themselves with the necessary text-books. Amidst all the opposition we have to encounter, the Lord has so far prospered us. Our application for aid to the College Society has been rejected; the reason assigned is, that Jacksonville is adequate to the wants of the...
