In 1916, Congress passed the Organic Act that created the National Park Services (NPS). The act provided the basis needed to better manage the nations already existing and growing assortment of federally protected lands by placing these under the direct supervision of a national bureau. More important, the Organic Act established the essential tenets of faith that have long guided NPS policy. According to the act, the Park Service seeks to conserve the scenery and the natural and historic objects and the wildlife within the parks and to provide for the enjoyment of the same in such manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations. Under the sponsorship of Sir Walter Raleigh, English settlers established two colonies on Roanoke Island, North Carolina, in 1585 and 1587, respectively. The colonists from the first settlement returned to England, while the men, women, and children from the second settlement simply disappeared, thus becoming known to history as the lost colony. Despite initial failure and tragedy, these expeditions fueled and aided future colonization attempts by England, including...
