Not illustrated. 1875 Excerpt: . . . hear so good an account of the Loddonford property, said Grace quietly. It ought to sell for a large sum. A large sum, indeed, repeated Mr. Palmer; but you are never thinking of selling it You are surely never thinking of parting with Loddonford, my dear said Mr. Bence, to whom the notion gave quite a new train of thought. I have thoroughly decided upon doing so, said Grace firmly. I could never have any pleasure in the place, connected as it is with reminiscences of bygone happiness, and with anticipations which were never fulfilled. I had determined on this step long since, and should have carried it out even at a loss; and now, since these glowing accounts which you have given me, I can feel no compunction, if only from a business point of view. The sale will attract an immense amount of attention,...
