BiblioGov. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 34 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in. Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO followed up on an earlier report concerning the Air Forces failure to terminate excessive materiel orders, focusing on: (1) the Air Forces progress in terminating excessive materiel orders; and (2) additional opportunities for improvement and savings. GAO found that: (1) the Air Force has taken a number of actions to place greater management emphasis and oversight on potential terminations including development of management information systems to measure its progress in terminating excessive orders and guidance on economic termination decisionmaking; (2) in fiscal year (FY) 1991, Air Force contract terminations increased to 47 percent; (3) the Air Force has not identified potential terminations because it is using an unjustified 6-month level of stock above item requirements as a buffer in computing termination levels for consumable items; (4) the Air Forces termination practices are not always cost-effective because of weaknesses in termination policies and procedures; (5) the Air Force is not making use of the increased availability of deobligated funds to reduce its annual budget; and (6) from fiscal year 1991 to date, 610 million in deobligated funds has become available from contract terminations. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
