(b) Direct appeal to the consumer. 1. Cooperation of Established Agencies The Food Administration has worked through every possible established means of reaching the people, creating the State food administrations as an intermediary. The leading organizations coordinated in this work are the following: 1. State food administrations. 2. Trade organizations and commercial concerns. 3. Educational institutions. 4. Womens organizations. 5. Libraries. 6. Religious and fraternal organizations. 7. Hotels and restaurants. 8. Transportation companies. The State Food Administrations of each State are responsible to the States administration division of the federal Food Administration, and connects the federal authorities with the State and county Councils of Defense. The State Food Administrator is in nearly all cases the embodiment of authority to all the people of the State. Occasionally there is a direct appeal to the federal Food Administration, as in the case of the milk price questions during the winter of 1917-18. 1 The discussion of these two topics is based mainly on Consen-ation and Regulation in the United States during the World War, p. Off. Charles R. Van Hise. Trade Organisations. The trade organizations dealing primarily in food materials almost at once took an interest in the great questions of food conservation and very generally manifested a desire to make themselves useful. Grocers organizations representing approximately 360, 000 individuals agreed to lend their aid....
